

ONLY A FEW DAYS MORE

Until the Great Lot Sale at Fairmont, W. Va.

YOU WILL SURELY BE THERE

If You Are Anxious to Put Your Money in a Safe and Profitable Investment—A Cordial Invitation Extended to Visit a Marvelously Prosperous Section of the State—A Short Ride and Sure Profits.

If you could ascend to the pinnacle of the mountain and view the landscape over, the outlook would not be half so promising as that in the upper Monongahela valley. At night the fires of thousands of coke ovens reflect their red glare against the heavens for miles around, and with the coming of day the echoes are awakened by the sound of the hammer and saw and the bustling activity of the entire region around Fairmont. All day long the number of freight cars and the screech of the switch engine keep up a lively accompaniment to the whirr of machinery and the hum of industrial establishments; in fact, everything is full of life and animation. This is the section you are invited to invest in—where the idler has been infused with energy, and where the weary never rest, at least not for the present.

The Development Company's addition to Fairmont has now been metamorphosed from a velvet turf plateau into a building tract with graded streets and wide avenues, with the choice of lots waiting to be knocked down to the highest bidder at the auction sale on Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19, and the sagacious business man and prudent investor will be in Fairmont on that occasion and improve the opportunity that will be offered for placing his money in property that is bound to bring him profitable returns on his outlay.

Those who have no personal knowledge of this section of the state, and who are inclined to doubt the representations that are being made of its progress and the certain prosperous future in store for it, will readily be convinced by a visit. You are not asked to take these representations on faith, but to come and examine and scrutinize for yourself. You will not be shown a highly colored and artistically constructed map of a town, only to discover that it represents nothing more than a staked plain. But you will find a desirable place for a home, if you are in search of one; you will see the advantages any manufacturing establishment will enjoy by locating here; you will at once realize business opportunities that will confound any doubts you may have had; you will discover the surroundings and environments of Fairmont exceedingly pleasant; you will meet with a cordial, frank and hospitable people and a population whose moral tone is far above the average, and where the educational facilities are unexcelled, summing up a community with whom it will not only be a pleasure but a profit to dwell. In fact, it is a place

Where every prospect pleases, And none but man is vile—

And even he, by a pleasing freak in nature, is only mildly vile, merely suffering by comparison with so much that is perfection.

The pluck and public spirit of the gentlemen of the Fairmont Development Company is to be commended and admired. It has been the custom of West Virginians to ignore the possibilities of their own state and invest their money in the mushroom towns of the west, while at their doors and under the ground they tread upon were the resources of wealth that the same energy and capital intelligently applied would have brought greater profits in their development. But this day is passing away, if it has not already gone by. The wonderful strides this section has made has not only attracted home capital but has been the magnet that has drawn the investment of foreign wealth and has laid the foundation for a great industrial prosperity within the borders of the rich and resourceful Mountain State. With the industrial and manufacturing growth of this section consequent of the development of the resources followed the demand for dwellings and business houses in Fairmont. So pressing was this demand that thirty families were turned away April 1, on account of inability to secure shelter. However the purchase by the Development company of the tract of land adjacent to Fairmont will supply this demand. It is the only territory in the vicinity available for building purposes, and investment in this property is the most secure and profitable ever offered. The company has expended over $100,000 in securing this tract, building an iron viaduct which connects with the town proper, and in improving it. This pocketbook confidence on the future of this section ought certainly to inspire others to invest their money. Impossible or inflated prices are not expected for these lots, and fictitious values have not been placed on them. The directors and stockholders are wise enough to know that anything of a speculative character connected with this enterprise would have a blighting effect on the town, and utterly defeat the object they have in view.

No favoritism will be shown at this sale, and every lot disposed of will go to bona fide bidders. No choice lots will go to favored investors, every person standing an equal chance with his neighbor and the pleasure of the auctioneer. Remember the sale takes place on the Development Company's grounds, rain or shine, Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19. Ample provision has been made for the accommodation of visitors, and no one need be deterred from coming for fear of not being able to secure entertainment. Mr. S. G. Derry
Of Providence, R. I.,

Widely known proprietor of Derry's Water-proof Harness Oil, tells below of his terrible sufferings from Eczema and his cure by

Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down at bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to leave my back and legs bare for my faithful wife to tend me. Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My Stomach Was All Out of Order. But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

Thousands of Dollars

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend

Hood's Sarsaparilla
from personal experience." S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford street, Providence, R. I.

If you are Bilious, take Hood's Pills.
